WHAT WE DID SO FAR

THEMATIC REPORTS

Potential measures to stop the spreading of the COVID-19 virus have been explored and categorized by the STEP_UP consortium. Each STEP_UP partner covered a different domain suitable for the target groups of the project and investigated measures that can be taken within to reduce the impact of a pandemic on health and society.

Survey for the evaluation of COVID-19 measures in the framework of the european STEP_UP project

International survey

In early 2022, the STEP_UP project team asked healthcare, social care and municipal workers to give their opinion on the COVID-measures we found in literature. Find the main results here!

The STEP_UP project in the Digital Skills and Jobs Platform!

In January, our project was presented in the Digital Skills and Jobs Platform.

Partner countries that released Long Term Strategies

As the pandemic situation evolves, European countries have started to think of a long-term strategy. Know more about the strategies from Spain and the Netherlands.

THE VIRTUAL LIBRARY IS ONLINE!

OPEN CALL

In STEP_UP we performed an extensive review, in the partners national languages and from international sources, of relevant and accurate materials on the COVID pandemic (and other epidemics) and societal measures to deal with emergency situations. These materials are now gathered in this virtual library, with over 200 entries fully open for consultation.

DO YOU WANT TO HAVE YOUR WORK REPRESENTED IN THIS VIRTUAL LIBRARY?

Open Call to the Virtual Library of STEP_UP

We have launched a Virtual Library with more than 200 measures regarding to the COVID19 pandemic! Want to have your work represented? Do you know of measures or good practices that should be included? An international call is open to submit them, and it will be integrated into an online repository.

WHEN WE MET AGAIN

STEP_UP partners in Croatia

Representatives from the partners of STEP_UP consortium attended the third transnational meeting of the project, which took place on 5 and 6 April in Zagreb, Croatia.
